OUR GROWING COMMUNITY

As the Weber area has grown to become home to a population of more than 265,000, its people have built upon the strength and determination of those who came before them. History and heritage mean something here; they have infused Weber residents with gratitude for their forebears while spurring them on to build a better, more prosperous future.

This thriving county is now a leading center for state-of-the-art business development in the aerospace industry, serving as a base for companies like Barnes Aerospace, Boeing, Lockheed Martin and Northrop Grumman. Added to that strength is its world-class production and service in the manufacturing, transportation and finance industries.

For residents, the area offers four distinct lifestyles: the urban core of Ogden City, the suburban lifestyle of the Gateway Communities, mountain living close to ski resorts in the Ogden Valley, and rural, quiet neighborhoods and farms in the West Corridor.

No matter who you are or how you like to live, there is a place for you in Weber County.

10 FACTS ABOUT WEBER COUNTY

1 Ogden was originally named Brownsville. Captain James Brown, a soldier in the Mormon Battalion of the U.S. Army during the Mexican War in the 1840s, purchased all of the land now comprising Weber County from trapper Miles Goodyear. In 1848, Brown settled here with his family and began the colonization of Brownsville, later named Ogden. (hmdb.org)

2 Ogden has carried the nickname "Junction City" due to its railroad history. With the establishment of the transcontinental railroad in 1869, Ogden became the location of a junction between the Union Pacific and Central Pacific railroads. This meant all passengers, baggage and shipping went through the city as it traveled east or west, and later north or south, across the nation. (web.archive.org/web/20130307014543/www.ogdencity.com)

3 There are more examples of Art Deco architecture in Ogden than any other Utah city. Ogden High School, the U.S. Forest Service Regional Headquarters and the Ogden Municipal Building were all built using Art Deco building style. (visitogden.com)

4 A popular resort known as Utah Hot Springs operated near Pleasant View beginning in the late 1880s. Guests flocked to the resort from surrounding areas and other states. In 1927, a fire destroyed its buildings; the resort was rebuilt and it was a popular swimming destination for families. Its popularity waned over the years as other attractions drew visitors away, and the land was sold to a private company in 1970. (northogdenconnection.com)

5 Ogden native and National Inventors Hall of Fame inductee Rodney D. Bagley invented the method for making the cellular ceramic heart of the catalytic converter used in cars. His colleagues Ron Lewis and Irv Lachman invented the ceramic substrate. His process is still used 50 years later and has reduced pollution from emissions and lead (because it led to removing lead from gas), going far to fulfill the aim of the 1970 U.S. Clean Air Act. He is a named inventor on 17 patents and received many awards. Since the 1970s, vehicles equipped with advanced emission controls have reduced pollutants by over 3 billion tons worldwide. 6 With 8,484 acres of skiable terrain, Powder Mountain is North America's largest ski area. Even on the busiest day, you will only find one skier per two acres of terrain. (utah.com)

7 Two ships in the United States Navy have been named after the city of Ogden. The USS Ogden (PF-39), a Tacoma-class frigate, was launched June 23, 1943. During World War II, she took part in operations in New Guinea and the Philippines. At one point, while the ship was at Leyte, Philippines, a bomb missed it by only 50 yards. The USS Ogden (LPD-5), an Austin-class amphibious transport dock, was launched on June 27, 1964. It supported operations during the Vietnam War, Enduring Freedom, Operation Iraqi Freedom and the global war on terrorism. Decommissioned in 2007, the second USS Ogden was sunk during a sinking exercise in 2014 northwest of Kauai, Hawaii. (history.uscg.mil, uscarriers.net)

8 In 2002, the world's attention turned to Weber County as it hosted several events during the 2002 Winter Olympic Games. The Ogden Ice Sheet hosted both the men's and women's curling competitions. Snowbasin Resort was the ski venue for the Downhill, Combined and Super G events. (uen.org)

9 Built in 1937, Ogden High School was the first in the nation to have a construction cost of more than $1 million. It was listed on the National Register of Historic Places in 1983. Ogden High School was the setting of fictional Weaver High School in the 1987 film "Three O'Clock High." In the mid 2000s, the school underwent substantial renovations to restore its grandeur. COUNTY COMMISSION

Weber County is governed by the Weber County Commission. Currently, the commission's three elected members are Sharon Arrington Bolos, James H. "Jim" Harvey and Gage Froerer. This form of government is somewhat unique as the commissioners fulfill both legislative and administrative functions. The commissioners develop policies for the county, then work to carry out those policies.

Several communities within Weber County are unincorporated, meaning services such as policing are provided by the county. While often small from a population standpoint and farther away from the center of activity, these communities can offer impressive amenities. Weber County's unincorporated areas are Eden, Liberty, Nordic Valley, Reese, Taylor, Warren and West Weber.

OGDEN CITY: THE HEART OF WEBER COUNTY

As Weber County's largest city and as the second-largest metropolitan area in Utah, Ogden serves as the economic core of northern Utah. With about 60 percent of Weber County's goods and services produced in Ogden, it's also the county's employment center.

Beyond its job opportunities, Ogden offers a quality of life that is unparalleled. The city's dynamic downtown business district is a hub for cultural activities and entertainment venues. Perhaps most uniquely, downtown residents can step outside their doors and enjoy outdoor recreational opportunities rarely found inside of a metro area.

LIVING IN WEBER COUNTY

An aerial night photograph of a city, likely Ogden, Utah, with numerous fireworks exploding in the sky. The city lights are visible, and the mountains are in the background under a twilight sky.

The high peaks of the Wasatch Mountains stand tall over the Weber Valley like kind and strong protectors, giving reassurance and beauty to those below. As one watches the golden light of sunset reflect off the rocky cliffs and grassy slopes, it becomes clear that living in these surroundings is unique and wonderful. It's something Weber County residents enjoy every day. Indeed, while other areas claim to be a great place for living, working and playing, Weber County actually fulfills that promise in all three areas. Whether through excellent educational opportunities, world-class medical care, unmatched outdoor recreational experiences or ever-expanding career opportunities, Weber County's quality of life is enviable and rarely matched.

BOYS & GIRLS CLUBS OF WEBER-DAVIS

Since its founding in 2000, Boys and Girls Clubs of Weber-Davis has provided thousands of local youth with high-quality after-school programs that teach them how to lead productive, successful lives.

Now, that influence is being expanded with the addition of more club locations in the Weber County area. At the beginning of the 2023-24 school year, Boys and Girls Clubs of Weber-Davis opened two new teen clubs — one at Ogden High School and the second at Ben Lomond High School.

BGCWD already operated six clubs in local elementary schools as well as an elementary club and teen club at the Roy Hope Community Center. These two new teen clubs are BGCWD's first to be located within high schools.

BGCWD also opened a new elementary club this school year at Roosevelt Elementary School in Washington Terrace.

Boys & Girls Clubs offers a place where students receive help with homework and other academic issues. "We work directly with the principals to provide a continuation of the school day," said James Ebert, executive director of Boys & Girls Clubs of Weber-Davis.

However, while academics are an important emphasis of the club, students gain much more through participation in Boys & Girls Clubs. They are taught leadership and character-building skills, they learn about cooking and how to live a healthy lifestyle, they enjoy STEM and art activities, and they play sports together.

Opening these new clubs makes these programs available to more area students. Schools serve as an excellent location for them as BGC site directors work directly with school teachers and principals to address individual students needs and concerns.

"There's just such a huge need, and we've been very fortunate to have such a great relationship with the school districts," Ebert said.

As part of its effort to expand its offerings, BGCWD is working with Roy City and the Weber School District to create a club location in the old Roy Junior High School. That location is anticipated to include an academic center, a recreational center and an area for culinary classes. Funds are currently being raised to help complete this new location.

Each school club is open to the students who attend that school. The Roy Hope site is open to all area youth. Enrollment in all clubs is limited; parents wishing to enroll their children in a club can inquire at their school's office or contact Boys & Girls Clubs of Weber-Davis at 801-627-2071.

With the new club sites up and running, the next goal is to enhance the clubs' career development offerings, Ebert said. This would include partnering with local businesses and industries to place students in job internships so they can experience career possibilities first-hand.

Companies interested in providing job internship opportunities for youth in Boys & Girls Clubs of Weber-Davis programs can contact BGCWD at 801-627-2071 or bgcweberdavis.com.

Some charter schools emphasize a specific subject area (such as science or

OGDEN-WEBER TECHNICAL COLLEGE

As Utah moves into an exciting new world of competition and innovation, businesses and employees are faced with two dilemmas: the continuing advancement of high technology in the workplace and a shrinking workforce to fill existing and new jobs.

Technology is evolving at such a rapid rate throughout the U.S. that 65% of Utah's jobs now require high-tech skills.

And due to the highly competitive struggle that is taking place in hiring new employees as well as retaining current employees, it is more important than ever to help students and potential employees learn the technical skills that will lead to employment and long-term careers.

To help secure employment and grow a prosperous community in the years ahead, Ogden-Weber Technical College (OTECH) is meeting the community's need for high-tech skills training.

With more than 30 programs in high-demand fields like non-destructive inspection, welding, computer aided design, healthcare, computer programming and industrial automation, students receive hands-on training to prepare them for a new career, not just a job.

Ogden-Weber Technical College works closely with local employers to respond to industry needs, shaping certifications and continuing education courses that will increase job skills and employee retention and keep this great community moving forward.

Whether starting college for the first time or looking to make a career shift, OTECH's learning model helps students master skills that allow them to jump into the workforce without missing a beat. High schoolers attend tuition free, and many complete OTECH programs before graduating from high school.

Many programs offer internships and on-the-job training to enrich learning experiences, and most programs can be completed in 12 months or less. In their first 10 years, OTECH alum earn more than students from all but one of Utah's public colleges or universities and see a 1,291% return on investment.

In addition to certifications, OTECH also offers customized training courses through Custom Fit. Designed to meet your business needs, these trainings enhance the skills of your employees to keep your company competitive in an industry that is constantly evolving.

Custom Fit is a state resource provided to strengthen Utah businesses, and each year the program receives state funding to cover up to 40% of training costs for qualifying companies. Through Custom Fit, over 200 local companies annually receive workforce training, and you could be one of them!

HEALTHCARE

STATE-OF-THE-ART HEALTHCARE JUST MINUTES AWAY

No matter what Weber County city you call home, you are located within minutes of state-of-the-art hospitals and a wide variety of healthcare clinics with a full spectrum of specialty physicians. Multiple rehabilitation centers are available locally and nearly every community has a senior citizen center or programming for seniors.

There's no need to travel to another city or region to obtain medical care — it can all be found here. Of course, the best healthcare is preventative care, and Weber residents have a long list of options when it comes to staying fit.

McKAY-DEE HOSPITAL

McKay-Dee Hospital in Ogden is part of Intermountain Healthcare, a nonprofit healthcare system based in Salt Lake City that meets the healthcare needs of people throughout the Intermountain West. It includes hospitals, clinics, affiliate networks, homecare, telehealth and other services.

Founded in 1910 as a small community hospital, McKay-Dee has grown into a world-class, full-service regional hospital. Its open-air levels, breathtaking views of the mountains and large patient rooms provide a calm, healing environment.

Currently, the hospital offers 63 specialties and 319 patient beds and serves as a Level II Trauma Center. McKay-Dee offers nationally ranked programs, including the Heart and Vascular Institute, Newborn ICU, the Cancer Center, McKay-Dee Spine Institute, emergency and trauma services and the McKay-Dee Surgery Center and Orthopedics. Additional services include neurosurgery, women and newborn, pediatrics, surgical, a family practice residency, behavioral health services and more.

In 2020, McKay-Dee was named to the IBM Watson Health's Top 100 hospitals list, a listing based on an annual study of the nation's top performing hospitals for quality care and patient satisfaction.

OGDEN CLINIC

Not all health issues or treatments require a hospital visit, and Weber County offers a full spectrum of care through clinics providing the latest in healthcare technology.

For example, Ogden Clinic, a physician-owned organization, has more than 10 locations inside Weber County and more in its surrounding area. It offers specialized care in a long list of areas ranging from family medicine to cancer treatment, general surgery, laboratory services, neurology, women's health, pediatrics and physical therapy.

Additionally, a Veteran's Health Administration (VA) clinic is available in South Ogden.

OGDEN REGIONAL MEDICAL CENTER

Originally founded in 1946 under the name of St. Benedict's Hospital, Ogden Regional Medical Center offers the invaluable expertise gained from more than 70 years of delivering exceptional patient care.

It is affiliated with HCA Healthcare and MountainStar Healthcare and is a full-service hospital and Level II Trauma Center. It also houses a Level III neonatal intensive care unit, a Cancer Treatment Center and a Children's Services Specialty Clinic.

Other services include maternity and high-risk pregnancy care, heart healthcare services, orthopedic and joint care, pediatrics, spine and stroke care and surgical procedures. In 2020, it was awarded the Press Ganey "Guardian of Excellence Award in Patient Experience" for Cancer Treatment. The Healthgrades 2020 Report gave ORMC a five-star rating for heart attack treatment outcomes.

In 2017, ORMC opened a new state-of-the-art Intensive Care Unit, and it ranks among the top 10 percent in the nation for Maternity Care. To bring hospital care closer to northern Weber County residents, ORMC opened a new 10,500-square-foot freestanding emergency department in Pleasant View in 2019.

HOLY CROSS HOSPITAL-DAVIS

Located in nearby Davis County, Holy Cross Hospital-Davis is a first-class medical facility offering a broad range of healthcare services, advance medical technology and a comfortable, convenient patient experience. In 2013, the Holy Cross Hospital-Weber Campus was opened in Roy, bringing its medical care closer to Weber County residents.

The 16,000-square-foot Weber Campus includes emergency care facilities, which offer 24-hour care, short wait times and board-certified ER physicians.

Also available at the Weber Campus are radiology and lab services. Same-day appointments are offered for its screening mammograms, which utilize advanced full-field digital imaging technology.

STAYING FIT & ACTIVE IT'S THE WEBER WAY

A big part of healthy living is staying fit and being active. In Weber County, there's an almost endless list of possibilities.

Ogden's trail system offers more than 20 options ranging from paved parkways following the Ogden and Weber rivers to expert-level hiking and biking trails in the valley's surrounding mountains.

Exploring the trail system will take you past numerous city parks, wetlands, a nature park, botanical gardens and even Ogden's historic downtown.

Those outside of Ogden have many options as well. Weber County cities offer many recreational programs and facilities ranging from youth and adult sports programs to city parks, pavilions, playground equipment, sports fields and walking trails.

The Ogden area has a variety of businesses offering fitness classes and services. Residents can enjoy yoga and dance classes, day spas, nutritional and life counseling, and gyms with the latest in strength and cardio equipment.

The variety of entertainment and activity options in Weber County can be summed up as breathtaking. The downtown Ogden area is home to a vibrant and thriving arts and culture scene. Hundreds of events and festivals are held here each year, including sporting events and live concerts.

The selection of outdoor activities is nearly unlimited and located amazingly close to the city. Residents can be rock climbing, hiking, skiing, fishing, kayaking and more in just minutes. Few major cities are located so close to such a variety of outdoor opportunities.

OGDEN CITY ARTS

Few cities are as forward-thinking as Ogden when it comes to the arts. Art creation and art access are priorities here, and Ogden City commits funding and staff to support both.

The Ogden City Arts Advisory Committee, a group of volunteers, is a city-run committee that oversees Ogden arts programs and efforts with assistance from the city's arts administrator. One of the committee's annual responsibilities is distributing grant funds. Anything or anyone in the arts — from large performing organizations to individual artists — can apply for these grants.

In addition to the grant program, the Ogden City Arts Advisory Committee oversees the operation of a wide variety of venues and programs, including the following:

NINE RAILS CREATIVE DISTRICT:

In 2018, the Ogden City Council approved a master plan for the Nine Rails Creative District. Defined as the area between Grant and Madison Avenues from 24th to 26th Streets, this district is designed to create new opportunities for the community to engage with art while supporting creative places, programs and people. The name Nine Rails refers to Ogden's history as a railroad town that served as a hub for nine different rail lines during World War II. It is also symbolic of the Nine Muses from Greek mythology.

DUMKE ARTS PLAZA:

This plaza is the newest addition to the Nine Rails Creative District. This flexible public area provides space for smaller festivals and performances as well as art installations. Film and video art can be shown on the plaza's large LED screen. Through an endowment, Weber State University provides a rotating sculpture exhibit at the plaza, bringing international-quality art to residents.

FIRST FRIDAY ART STROLL:

On the first Friday of each month, various businesses in Ogden's downtown area host an artist for the evening. The public is invited to visit the businesses, meet the artists and watch them work. While these are mainly visual artists, musicians and poets participate as well.

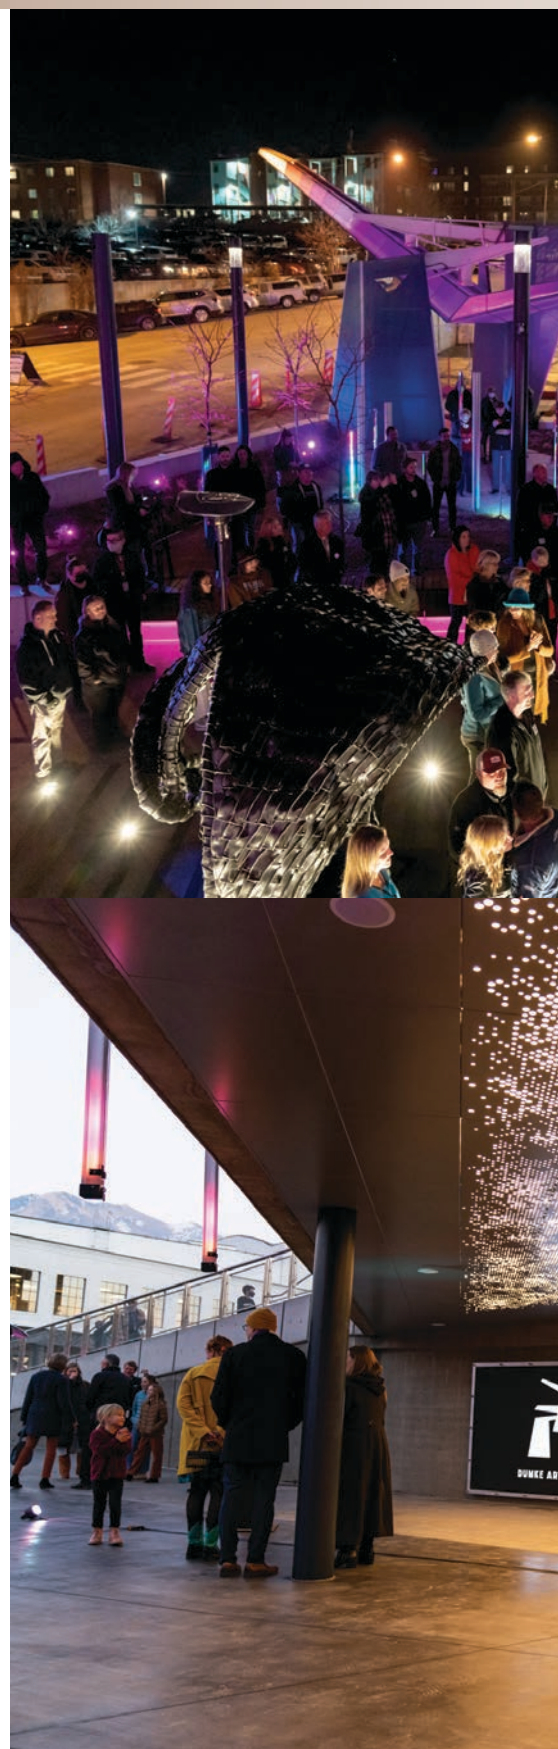

GRANT AVENUE MURALS:

These murals were created as part of Ogden's robust public arts program. In 2020, artist Don Rinx of Puerto Rico painted five 40-foot by 50-foot murals along Ogden's Grant Avenue depicting important moments and people in Ogden's history.

LOCAL ARTIST DATABASE:

The Local Artist Database lists artists of any type (musicians, woodworkers, sculptors, etc.) along with their contact information. This provides the Ogden community with a central location where they can find craftspeople and artists of different genres for projects, commissions and collaborations. Joining is free; to join, visit ogdencity.com/879/Local-Artist-Database.

UNION STATION

The Ogden Union Station was dedicated on Nov. 22, 1924. For nearly 40 years, this train station was a bustling focal point of northern Utah. However, by the 1960s, the use of trains for passenger travel had decreased dramatically. Ogden City eventually obtained the station and remodeled it using local, state and federal funding. It has served as a museum since 1978.

Ogden's Union Station now houses four museums: the Utah State Railroad Museum, the John M. Browning Firearms Museum, the Browning-Kimball Classic Car Museum, and the Utah Cowboy Western Heritage Museum. Also housed at the station are two art galleries: the Gallery at the Station and the Myra Powell Gallery. In addition, Union Station contains a research library and photographic collection.

FARMERS MARKET OGDEN

Every Saturday morning from late June through late September, farm-fresh produce takes center stage on Ogden's Historic 25th Street. Vendors with everything from peaches and pears to corn, lettuce and tomatoes set up shop and exhibit their wares to the public. Visitors can also find locally roasted coffee and baked goods as well as arts and crafts items. Live musicians and activities for the kids give the weekly event a festival-like atmosphere.

Later in the season, a slimmed-down version of the event known as the Fall Market is held on Saturday mornings through October. Held at the Ogden Amphitheater, the Fall Market features a wide array of produce and specialty artisan goods as well as warm seasonal beverages. Those attending can enjoy live music, yoga and other activities.

OGDEN UTAH TEMPLE

Located in The Junction area of downtown Ogden is the Ogden Utah Temple of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. This beautiful stone-clad building with art glass windows underwent a major renovation that was completed in 2014; this effort encouraged more redevelopment and beautification in The Junction area. Visitors can enjoy the impeccably landscaped grounds of the temple or go across the street to the Ogden FamilySearch Center where they can obtain assistance in learning more about the genealogy of their family.

THE WONDERBLOCK

After several years of planning, including extensive public input, Ogden City's Make Ogden Downtown Master Plan was adopted in 2020, establishing a 25-year vision to guide the growth and development of downtown Ogden.

Ogden holds within its downtown core a collection of historic, cultural, recreational and natural assets that is unmatched along the Wasatch Front. Make Ogden is a master plan that envisions capitalizing on these assets through transformative infill of vacant and underutilized parcels to build a thriving downtown that improves the lives of residents and bolsters the city's financial health and prosperity.

The Make Ogden plan establishes its vision through a series of catalytic projects in key locations around the city's Central Business District that will occur in "episodes" or phases in which the city investment in the public realm, coupled with developer incentives, will attract private investment to increase land values, density and walkability.

In Episode 1 of Make Ogden, there is a strong emphasis on increasing the supply and variety of housing types in downtown Ogden – within easy walking distance to Historic 25th Street – to appeal to a diversity of residents. A project called the WonderBlock will help fulfill a portion of that emphasis.

The WonderBlock area, former home to a Hostess production plant, is a vacant parcel off the north side of 26th Street between Grant and Lincoln avenues, just south of Historic 25th Street.

The WonderBlock development will be a combination of residential dwellings, retail, offices services and food and beverage as well as hospitality.

All of the project elements will be connected via attractive public spaces that will support special events, creating a unique sense of place that will draw people throughout the region to Ogden's

WONDERBLOCK FEATURES:

- More than 350 residential units, high amenity, within walking distance of arts/culture/events
- Approximately 100,000 square feet of class A office space
- Approximately 50,000 square feet of new retail space
- Approximately 20,000 square feet of new grocery store space
- Boutique hotel
- Curated public amenity space, including pedestrian pathways and public outdoor amenity spaces
- Convenient public parking downtown.

The WonderBlock development is proposed to be a private/public partnership between developer, J. Fisher Companies, and the Ogden City Redevelopment Agency (RDA).

The WonderBlock will help establish a new precedent for value and density in downtown Ogden. Additionally, the new catalytic development will attract and encourage additional community investments and enhance the city's long-term sustainable economic vitality.

Further, per previous community input regarding the importance of preserving and enhancing the historic "place" of downtown, particularly around Historic 25th Street, WonderBlock compliments and supports the city's placemaking initiatives to attract more activity to downtown Ogden — including more residents, businesses and jobs — and increased walkability and public transportation and parking conveniences.

BUSINESS DEPOT OGDEN

Business Depot Ogden (BDO) is a premier industrial business park situated on 1,118 acres with excellent access to Interstate 15 and Interstate 84 with easy access to the Western United States.

BDO has more than 13.4 million square feet of warehousing, manufacturing and office space and an additional 225 acres of ground available for new development. More than 130 unique businesses and 6,500 employees have made BDO their home.

The area was formerly known as the Defense Depot Ogden, a military hub for supplies and transport that operated for 54 years. In 1940, the U.S. Army requested the War Department establish a depot for distribution of equipment to field a force of 500,000 men. In under 48 hours, the citizens of Ogden rallied together to raise nearly $100,000 to purchase land and ensure the War Department selected their city as the site. Within months, 41 buildings were under construction. On Sept. 15, 1941, the new Defense Depot Ogden officially opened.

For the next 55 years, Defense Depot Ogden continued to be an important asset to the U.S. military, providing supplies for engagements such as the Korean, Vietnam and Desert Storm conflicts. In 1995, Defense Depot Ogden was closed, and during the next few years, the land and buildings were sectionalized and deeded to Ogden City.

In 1999, the Boyer Company entered into a long-term agreement with the city to manage and develop the facility into the future, creating what is today Business Depot Ogden.

AARON AUSTAD

"Over the past 20 years, Business Depot Ogden has grown into the largest business park, per square foot, in the state of Utah and has been successful in attracting world-class companies such as Hershey, Home Depot and Northrop Grumman. We also pride ourselves in helping small startup businesses to thrive, succeed and grow into large, successful enterprises. We have been able to do this by offering a wide variety of building options, sizes and pricing — anything from space built in 1941 to new state-of-the-art complex builds.

"One of our greatest competitive advantages is our interaction with Ogden City, Weber County and local businesses. Because of these amazing relationships, we are able to streamline the design, permitting and construction of buildings. This allows us to complete projects in eight to ten months that would take most developers well over a year to design and build. In our competitive business world, speed is vital, and the collaboration between local government and businesses has allowed us to win an abundance of projects that were time sensitive in nature.

"None of the success we've seen through the years could have been attainable without the incredible workforce that calls Weber County home. Business Depot Ogden has over 6,500 employees working for 130 businesses. This high-quality, educated workforce continues to attract the attention of the national site selectors as well as the businesses that they represent.

"This year, we completed nine buildings, which constituted over 750,000 square feet of new space. With land still available to build, we anticipate continued growth throughout this decade and beyond.

"The future is bright in Ogden, Utah, and we are excited to continue working hand-in-hand with local government, businesses and the Chamber to further the growth of our amazing community."

- Aaron Austad, partner, Business Depot Ogden

OGDEN BUS RAPID TRANSIT

Weber County's newest transportation option is the Ogden Express, also known as OGX. After more than 20 years of planning and two years of construction, this bus rapid transit system opened to the public in August of 2023.

Utilizing a fleet of electric buses and dedicated bus lanes, OGX connects the Ogden Central FrontRunner light rail station to Weber State University and McKay-Dee Hospital. Along the way, the buses transport riders through downtown Ogden with stops at or near The Junction entertainment complex, Peery's Egyptian Theater, the David Eccles Conference Center, the Ogden Amphitheater, historic 25th Street, the Weber County Library, Ogden High School, Mount Ogden Junior High School and the Dee Events Center.

Riders can catch the bus every 10 to 15 minutes on weekdays and 15 to 30 minutes on weekends, and the service is available for free for three years. The system is faster than traditional UTA bus service thanks in part to technology on the OGX buses that will coordinate traffic light changes with bus flow along the route.

"Bus rapid transit is truly a faster way of travel," said Federal Transit Administration Administrator Nuria Fernandez during the grand opening ceremony for OGX. "It is light rail on rubber tires, and the ability to put that system in the median as you're traversing through it and also having the technology, the innovation, the signal priority — that's going to give that sense of movement that you're going to be able to get where you want to go safe, fast, frequent and reliably."

There are a total of 11 stations between the FrontRunner Ogden Central Station on one end of the route and McKay-Dee Hospital on the other end.

Once OGX riders have reached the FrontRunner station, they can take that light rail train into Salt Lake City and as far south as Provo.

OGX service runs on the following schedule:

- Every 10 minutes on weekdays (4:30 a.m. to midnight) and every 5 minutes between the Weber State Central and Dee Events Center stations in conjunction with the OGX Wildcat Shuttle
- Every 15 minutes on Saturdays (9 a.m. to 10:30 p.m.)
- Every 30 minutes on Sundays (10 a.m. to 6 p.m.)

OUR WELL-CONNECTED PUBLIC TRANSIT SYSTEM

BUS SERVICE

Utah Transit Authority (UTA) provides bus routes throughout Weber County, including routes to some of the area's major employment centers. Bus service is available to surrounding communities, including Brigham City and Salt Lake City. During the winter, UTA offers bus service to Snowbasin and Powder Mountain ski resorts. In downtown Ogden, UTA operates a free trolley service that transports visitors to popular shopping, dining and entertainment areas.

LIGHT RAIL

The bus service ties into UTA's commuter rail service, FrontRunner, at stations in both Ogden and Roy. FrontRunner connects Weber County to many other communities along the Wasatch Range, including Salt Lake City and Provo. Riders can easily transfer from FrontRunner to the TRAX light rail system in Salt Lake City and ride to communities throughout the Salt Lake Valley, the University of Utah and the Salt Lake City International Airport.

5600 S. INTERCHANGE RECONSTRUCTION

Construction began in June of 2023 on a massive project that will reconstruct the 5600 South interchange on Interstate 15 in Weber County.

The project will also widen 5600 South from three lanes to five lanes between 1900 West and 3500 West as well as build a new trail system for pedestrians and cyclists.

This project will reduce congestion and improve safety and mobility on 5600 South, allowing residents to get around more easily whether they are walking, biking or driving.

It is anticipated to be completed in the fall of 2026. Cost of the project has been estimated at $238 million.

The interchange is located in Roy on the northwestern border of Hill Air Force Base near the Hill AFB Roy Gate.

For the latest construction impacts, sign up for project construction updates by sending an email to 5600south@utah.gov.

Project impacts to travel can be found on the UDOT Traffic website, udot.utah.gov/traffic, or by downloading the UDOT Traffic app.

MORE THAN 12 YEARS OF CHAMBER MEMBERSHIP

Our involvement, as associates of SymbolArts, with the Ogden-Weber Chamber of Commerce has been nothing short of amazing. The Ogden-Weber Chamber has so much to offer, and we have been fortunate to be a part of it for over 12 years.

We have participated in virtually every aspect of the Chamber's offerings and have found them all to be worthwhile and beneficial to our business opportunities and personal growth. The members of the Chamber bring so many varied backgrounds and insights that help us as we improve our own business.

The monthly Business After Hours, annual golf tournament, Women in Business, Board of Governors and annual gala are just a few of the events that allow for networking amongst our peers and friends throughout the Ogden-Weber area. We simply love the association one with another.

Additionally, the Ogden-Weber Chamber staff and leadership have been stellar in leading the Chamber and growing the opportunities to work with one another and provides a path for us to give back to the community that we love.

This Chamber rocks!

Before the Golden Spike, before Utah became a state,
the Lindquist family was caring for families in need.

The Lindquist story began in 1853 when Swedish immigrant and Mormon Pioneer Nils A. Lindquist arrived in Salt Lake City. At the direction of Brigham Young, Nils moved to Logan in 1867 and began making caskets. Soon thereafter, he established N.A. Lindquist Furniture and Undertaking Goods. In 1885, Nils' oldest son, Charles J.A. moved to Ogden to establish a mortuary.

Today, Lindquist Mortuaries, Cremations, and Cemeteries is Utah's oldest and largest funeral-care provider serving families from Bountiful to North Ogden from eight locations.

John E. Lindquist
Owner and Chairman of the Board

Robert Lindquist Jr.
Ogden Mortuary Manager

Lindquist honors all other mortuaries' funeral plans, usually with additional discounts.

Serving families since 1867
