FINDING OPPORTUNITY IN WEBER COUNTY

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

As president of the Ogden-Weber Chamber of Commerce, I am proud to share the continued progress and dynamic growth happening in our community. This past year has been marked by significant advancements, particularly in the development of downtown Ogden as part of the MakeOgden plan and in the thriving small business scene across Weber County. We've also had strong reinvestment by companies who have been part of the Weber County business landscape for many years. These initiatives are a testament to the strength, resilience and forward-thinking spirit that define our region.

Weber County has always been a place where opportunity happens, with its roots in a legacy of unity, hard work and innovation. From the early settlers to the present day, we have embraced progress, setting a course that benefits residents and businesses alike. That legacy is alive and well today, driving the transformation of Ogden's downtown core and strengthening our overall economic landscape countywide.

Our county's economy continues to experience remarkable strength, with significant contributions from the growing number of small businesses. These enterprises make up the backbone of our community, driving job creation, innovation and economic diversity.

The MakeOgden initiative is bringing new energy and vision to our historic city center, creating a vibrant urban environment that honors Ogden's heritage while offering modern opportunities for growth. With new infrastructure, retail, dining and housing developments, downtown Ogden continues to prove itself as a magnet for businesses, visitors and residents.

Weber County's economic resilience, even in the face of global

We have consistently provided a stable environment that creates prosperity and opportunity.

Civic and business leaders alike remain committed to ensuring growth is supported and continues. We are working to create an environment where businesses of all sizes can thrive while preserving the quality of life that makes Weber County such a special place to live, work and visit.

Whether you've been a resident for years or are new to the area, I invite you to explore all that Weber County has to offer.

Together, we are building a community where success, opportunity and a bright future are within everyone's reach.

An aerial photograph of Ogden City, Utah, showing a dense urban area with a grid-like street pattern. The city is nestled in a valley, with rugged mountains visible in the background under a clear blue sky. The foreground shows some undeveloped land and a road.

Weber County is a thriving community offering four distinct lifestyles: urban living in Ogden City; suburban living in the cities just north and south of Ogden; rural, quiet neighborhoods and farms west of I-15; and mountain living close to ski resorts in Ogden Valley. No matter who you are or how you like to live, there is a place for you in Weber County.

Recently, the Mariachi Music Program was begun in several elementary schools, welcoming students of all ethnicities to experience playing traditional violins, guitars, vihuelas, guitarrons and trumpets as they explore this distinctive musical style.

The foundation also helps fund and organize Early Literacy Night. Every first-grader in the district participates in this reading program, which brings together students and family members to interact with reading in a fun and immersive way.

CHARTER & PRIVATE SCHOOLS

In Utah, charter schools are tuition-free and open to any Utah student. They are publicly funded and accountable to the Utah State Board of Education.

Charter schools serve students from kindergarten through 12th grade, but not all grades are offered at all charter schools. Enrollment is capped at a certain number at each school; if too many students apply for admission, the school holds a lottery to determine which students will be admitted.

Some charter schools place an emphasis on a specific subject matter area (such as science) or on a certain instructional methodology. There are charter schools operating in several Weber County cities.

There are also private schools available in the area, both religious and secular in nature, that offer instruction for students from pre-kindergarten to 12th grade.

The route, which begins at the Ogden FrontRunner light rail station and runs through the downtown area to Weber State University (WSU) and McKay-Dee Hospital, has proven especially popular among students and staff at WSU. The service is currently fare-free and will continue to be so for at least two years.

Commuters in the southern area of Weber County will benefit from a massive Utah Department of Transportation project now underway that is reconstructing the 5600 South interchange on Interstate 15 and widening 5600 South in Roy. The new design will improve safety and mobility on 5600 South and reduce traffic congestion. The project includes constructing a new trail system in the area for pedestrians and cyclists.

The project also is anticipated to be completed in the fall of 2026. Cost of the project has been estimated at $238 million.

UDOT TRAFFIC APP

Know traffic conditions before you leave home with the UDOT Traffic app, available for both iPhone and Android devices. VISIT OGDEN

WEBER COUNTY'S TOURISM ENGINE

 Visit Ogden

Weber County's vibrant economy isn't just built on industry; it's fueled by tourism, and Visit Ogden is the engine driving that growth. Visit Ogden is a strategic force generating significant economic benefits for our community.

JOBS AND PROSPERITY

Visit Ogden's marketing efforts attract visitors, filling hotel rooms, restaurant tables and retail shops. This translates directly into jobs that support families and strengthen our local workforce across a wide range of sectors, from hospitality to transportation.

Visit Ogden's efforts extend beyond attracting individual tourists; they also actively pursue and secure group business – conferences, meetings, sports tournaments, and events – that inject substantial revenue and stimulate the local economy.

A POWERFUL REVENUE STREAM

Tourism isn't just about spending; it's about generating revenue that directly benefits our entire county. Increased sales tax, lodging tax, and other related revenue streams are vital for funding essential services like infrastructure improvements, public safety, and education.

While the visitor economy represents 10% of Weber County's overall economy, visitors account for significant portions of revenue for the aspects of our community that make it special, including nearly 40% of restaurant business and more than 50% of resort and attraction revenue. Visit Ogden's strategic marketing ensures a consistent flow of these vital funds, improving the quality of life for all Weber County residents.

ECONOMIC STABILITY AND DIVERSIFICATION

While our economy is diverse, tourism provides a critical buffer against fluctuations in other sectors. It's a resilient industry, and Visit Ogden's continuous promotion of our unique attractions reinforces this stability, offering a reliable economic pillar for our county.

SUSTAINABILITY: AN EYE TO THE FUTURE

Our commitment to environmental protection, responsible resource management, and community engagement isn't just about minimizing negative impacts; it's about proactively shaping a future where tourism enhances, rather than detracts from, the quality of life for both residents and visitors.

MORE THAN JUST TOURISTS: BUILDING COMMUNITY PRIDE

Visit Ogden's work doesn't just attract visitors; it enhances our community's image and appeal, strengthening community pride. Our efforts highlight not just the attractions but the quality of life in Weber County, attracting tourists, new residents, and job recruits. This positive visibility fuels investment, benefiting local businesses and infrastructure alike.

COLLABORATION: THE KEY TO SUCCESS

Visit Ogden's success story isn't written alone. We are actively engaged in partnerships with local businesses, organizations, and community leaders, fostering a collaborative environment that amplifies our impact.

POWDER MOUNTAIN

On a bright and clear July morning, a line of trucks—most towing empty trailers—queued up at Powder Mountain's Sundown parking lot. After 52 years of service, the iconic Timberline lift is being replaced for winter 2024/25. Each of the trucks in line represents a winning auction bid for one of the old Timberline chairs.

"Fifty-two years' worth of memories have been made on those chairs," says Greg Covello, Powder Mountain's senior marketing partnership and events manager. "More than anything, it's a chance to own a piece of Powder history that many in our community have deep connections with. Of course, the chance to support a great cause makes it that much better."

Over $200,000 was raised through the auction for the Community Foundation of Ogden Valley, demonstrating the deep-rooted connections within the Powder Mountain community.

Under the new ownership of Netflix Co-founder Reed Hastings and fresh off the largest investment in the resort's history, significant changes are underway at Powder Mountain. In addition to Timberline, the Paradise lift is also being replaced this summer. Upgrades to these two key arteries in the lift infrastructure were needed and prioritized. On the deepest days, they'll get people on the mountain faster, allowing for more time hooting and hollering through the seemingly endless glades Powder is known for.

Construction crews are also busy working on a couple of new lifts this summer, the first new lifts at Powder in a decade. One from the base of Timberline to the top of Lightning Ridge will open vast new lift-served intermediate and expert terrain. Another servicing Raintree will offer dedicated access to Powder Mountain homeowners.

The move to dedicated homeowner access on some lifts at Powder was explained matter-of-factly by Hastings in a letter to pass holders last September: "In order to pay our bills, we need to sell more real estate, and to do that we are introducing private homeowner-only skiing. We will be designating the Village and Mary's lifts, which serve beginner and intermediate terrain, plus a new lift on Raintree, for this private skiing."

The combination of a public ski resort with elements of a private club is a new model for the ski industry and represents a significant departure for the mountain resort. The move was also accompanied by the largest terrain expansion in Powder's recent history, a trade-off that nets out positively for Powder Mountain's pass and day-ticket holders in terms of lift-accessed acreage.

Powder recently announced the purchase of an adjacent 2,390 acres known locally as Davenport for its residents; the acquired terrain features 1,766 feet of consistently pitched vertical drop over 980 acres through glades and cut runs. It is, in a word, spectacular. With the promise of endless powder stashes, Davenport will anchor the terrain available to homeowners.

Despite all that's new, there's still a commitment from Powder's new leadership to keep some things exactly as they are.

From the Powder Keg, one of the truly iconic après bars in the world, to the Powder Country Bus and cat service that offers access to the more remote areas on the mountain's more than 1,200-acre footprint, many of the offerings that make Powder unique are valued, including the uncrowded experience that Powder is known for.

Above all, Hastings has made a promise to keep Powder open to the public for generations to come. That commitment will continue into summer 2025-26 when construction is planned for yet another new lift, which will service Wolf Creek Canyon and DMI, a zone named by local skiers after experiencing terrain that's so good you "don't mention it."

Back at the chairlift pickup, there's a palpable sense of appreciation and gratitude for the memories that Powder Mountain has provided over the last 50+ years. This sentiment is buttressed by the knowledge that, 50 years from now, another generation of skiers and snowboarders may well be picking up chairlifts that hold their own cherished memories.

POWDER'S BIG YEAR

• September 2023: The initial $100M investment by Reed Hastings is announced, paving the way for a number of capital and infrastructure improvements that follow. It is the largest capital investment in Powder Mountain's history and the first major investment in nearly a decade.

HILL AIR FORCE BASE

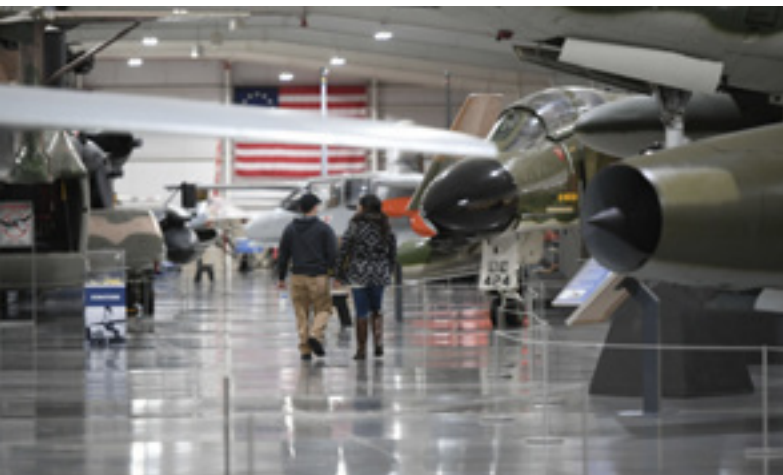

Employing more than 23,000 military, civilian and contractor personnel and encompassing nearly 7,000 acres, Hill Air Force Base is the U.S. Air Force's second-largest base by population and geographical size. Located along the southern edge of Weber County, the base offers multiple opportunities for the public to engage with and learn more about its activities and aircraft. They include the Hill Aerospace Museum and the Warriors Over the Wasatch Air and Space Show.

HILL AEROSPACE MUSEUM

Hill Aerospace Museum, located on approximately 30 acres in the northwest corner of Hill Air Force Base, has thousands of historical Air Force artifacts on display as well as more than 70 aircraft both indoors and outdoors. The museum showcases the history of American air power from the earliest days of the Wright brothers to the modern aircraft of the 21st century.

Visitors can get a close-up view of planes from the World War II era as well as the Cold War. The museum's artifacts collection includes military vehicles, missiles, ordnance, military uniforms, and artwork.

In 2024, the museum expanded its indoor exhibition space by 70% with the opening of its new L.S. Skaggs Gallery, which houses 91,000 square feet of exhibition space and aircraft including a U-2 "Dragon Lady," an SR-71 "Blackbird," and an F-22 "Raptor." For more information, visit aerospaceutah.org.

WARRIORS OVER THE WASATCH AIR AND SPACE SHOW

Every two years, Hill Air Force Base hosts the Warriors Over the Wasatch Air and Space Show. Presented by the Utah Air Show Foundation, this event offers the public a glimpse into the wonder of flight, including everything from historic World War II and Vietnam-era aircraft to advanced aerobatic planes and the latest in U.S. military aircraft technology.

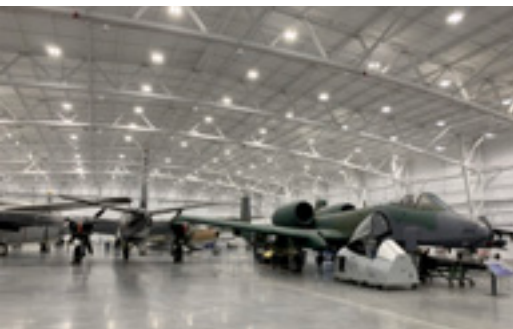

The lineup has also included performances by the U.S. Air Force Air Demonstration Squadron known as the Thunderbirds. From spectacular stunts to breathtaking speed, you're likely to see it demonstrated during Warriors Over the Wasatch.

Incredibly, all this activity in the sky plus a wide variety of activities and exhibits on the ground are made available to the public free of charge. Aeronautics companies set up booths offering information, demonstrations and hands-on activities, and aircraft ranging from historic warbirds to modern, high-performance planes are put on display.

The two-day event is held on even years, with the next one scheduled for 2026. For more information about Warriors Over the Wasatch, visit theutahairshow.com.

BUSINESS DEPOT OGDEN

In 1940, just prior to World War II, the United States government perceived the possibility of an enemy attack and moved to relocate distribution depots inland. Utah was a prime location for a new depot, and with the help of members of the Ogden community and the Ogden-Weber Chamber of Commerce, Ogden was chosen to be the new Army logistics center.

Defense Depot Ogden opened on Sept. 15, 1941, and operated for 55 years, providing critical supplies for the soldiers of World War II and the Korean, Vietnam, and Desert Storm conflicts. In 1995, the Base Realignment & Closure Commission closed the depot, and, within a few years, the property was deeded over to Ogden City.

In 1999, the city entered into a 70-year master agreement with the Boyer Company to manage and develop the property, which is now known as Business Depot Ogden (BDO).

As part of the master agreement, the Boyer Company is required to develop roughly 7 acres per year. As of today, the Boyer Company has developed over 462 acres in BDO, far exceeding the 172 acres required by the end of this year and placing the business park's development 38 years ahead of schedule. This represents a significant investment in the community, with over $466 million in new building construction and 49 new buildings.

BDO is the largest park in the state with over 14 million square feet under roof and 1,100 acres. While many believe the park is now full, there is still room to grow, with 150 available acres for development, symbolizing a potential 2.4 million square feet of additional space.

Roughly 150 international, national and local companies call BDO home, with over 6,000 employees working at the park. BDO prides itself in helping businesses to thrive, succeed, and grow into large, successful enterprises. They have been able to do this by offering a wide variety of building options, sizes and pricing — anything from space built in 1941 to new state-of-the-art complex builds.

BDO has a significant positive impact on the local economy through job creation, increased consumer spending, tax revenue generation, property value enhancement, economic diversification, infrastructure improvements, and attraction of further business investments. Revenues from the park also help fund additional economic development projects within the city of Ogden.

A list of the companies located at BDO, as well as an overall development map, can be found at boyerbdo.com.

Ya YA FOODS: MAKING A DIFFERENCE IN OGDEN AND BEYOND

When we at Ya YA Foods opened our doors in Ogden, Utah, back in March 2023, we felt an immediate connection with the community. As a company that's been in the food and beverage manufacturing industry for more than 30 years, expanding to Ogden wasn't just a business move — it was the start of an exciting new chapter for all of us.

Starting out in Toronto, Canada, Ya YA Foods has always been passionate about quality and customer satisfaction. Our journey has been all about producing top-notch food and beverage products that people love. With our advanced processing technology, we're able to offer a wide range of options to our partners. Whether it's aseptic beverages, ready-to-drink products or specialized food items, we're committed to meeting diverse needs.

OUR PRODUCTS

We're proud to work with some of the most recognized brands across North America, providing innovative and reliable solutions. Here's a glimpse of what we do:

- Aseptic Beverages: These are long-lasting drinks packed under sterile conditions — perfect for plant-based beverages, dairy alternatives, juices, and nutritional drinks that need to stay fresh without preservatives.
- Ready-to-Drink Solutions: From protein shakes to cold brew coffee, we create convenient and healthy drink options that fit busy lifestyles.

By staying flexible and upholding the highest food safety standards, we help our partners consistently bring quality products to market.

GROWING IN OGDEN

Our expansion into Ogden has been an incredible experience. Since opening, we've created more than 100 jobs for local residents — roles like machine operators, technicians and quality assurance professionals. We believe in investing in our team and offering competitive wages, great benefits, and plenty of opportunities for career growth.

But it's not just about jobs. We're building relationships with local suppliers, organizations, and schools because we want our growth to be sustainable and beneficial for everyone involved.

WHY OGDEN?

We chose Ogden for a reason. This vibrant community has a rich history and a promising future. The skilled workforce here, along with its strategic location, makes it a perfect fit for us. Ogden's blend of innovation and tradition mirrors our own values at Ya YA Foods. Plus, with easy access to both local and interstate transport networks, our new facility helps us efficiently distribute products throughout the U.S.

MAKING AN IMPACT

We're not just here to do business — we're here to be part of the community. That's why we're dedicated to supporting local initiatives like food security programs and environmental sustainability efforts. By partnering with local leaders, schools, and vocational programs, we're helping to provide skills training and educational opportunities, contributing to a stronger future workforce in Ogden.

LOOKING AHEAD

As we continue to grow, we're excited about what's next. We invite the Ogden community to join us on this journey. Whether you're looking for a fulfilling career in the food and beverage industry or you're a business seeking innovative production solutions, Ya YA Foods is here for you.

Our commitment to quality, sustainability, and community involvement is at the heart of everything we do. We're looking forward to a bright future here in Ogden, with plans to expand our team and increase production capacity. Together, we're shaping the future of food and beverage manufacturing in the region.

CHROMALOX: INVESTING IN THE FUTURE

At Chromalox Ogden, we develop and produce advanced electric heating technologies for the world's toughest thermal processes. This is our passion, and we have more experience than anyone in the industry.

OGDEN MANUFACTURING PLANT

Chromalox started in 1917 with an innovative solution when a self-taught engineer invented the first metal-sheathed resistance heating element. Today, Chromalox is a division of the Electric Thermal Solutions (ETS) business of Spirax Group, a global technology solutions and engineering company.

The Ogden facility, established in 1976, plays a crucial role in delivering sustainable, zero-emission electric heating solutions for our customers. Our century-plus of experience and innovation makes us the trusted partner in electric heat for the transition into a sustainable future. We are the partner of choice as industries look to accelerate their decarbonization efforts and solutions as well as reduce carbon emissions and their dependence on fossil fuels.

SUSTAINABILITY

In addition to helping customers achieve sustainability, Chromalox has implemented significant environmental programs through Spirax Group's One Planet Sustainability Strategy.

The One Planet vision is to lead industrial sustainability by increasing energy efficiency, minimizing greenhouse gas emissions, and improving water efficiency.

To that end, the Ogden facility has diverted 658 tons of waste from landfills (54%) since 2019. The company targets reducing waste by 10% and eliminating all non-recyclable or non-biodegradable packaging by the end of 2025. Chromalox is committed to achieving "net-zero" greenhouse gas emissions by 2030 and has contracted Renewable Energy Credits for the facility's electricity supply starting in July 2024.

EMPLOYEE ENGAGEMENT

The Ogden plant employs more than 300 local employees, and more growth is expected. Chromalox colleagues have a strong and proud history of helping their home communities by supporting and leading volunteer activities and projects each year.

Chromalox Ogden supports this with monthly and quarterly community engagement projects and events.

Recent examples of local community engagement events include a back-to-school jogger drive for Weber County School District, cleanup and invasive species removal of an "Adopt-A-Trail" section of the Ogden River, support of a Red Cross blood drive, and International Day of Charity tree planting.

In addition, teams from the facility coordinate volunteering and charitable donation projects annually in education, food insecurity, and biodiversity.

Every colleague is provided paid leave to perform volunteer work for causes that have meaning to them.

During the past year, Chromalox invested more than $58 million in a major expansion project with EK Bailey Construction to increase capacity and advance new cutting-edge manufacturing technology.

We are here for the future of Ogden and sustainable manufacturing worldwide.

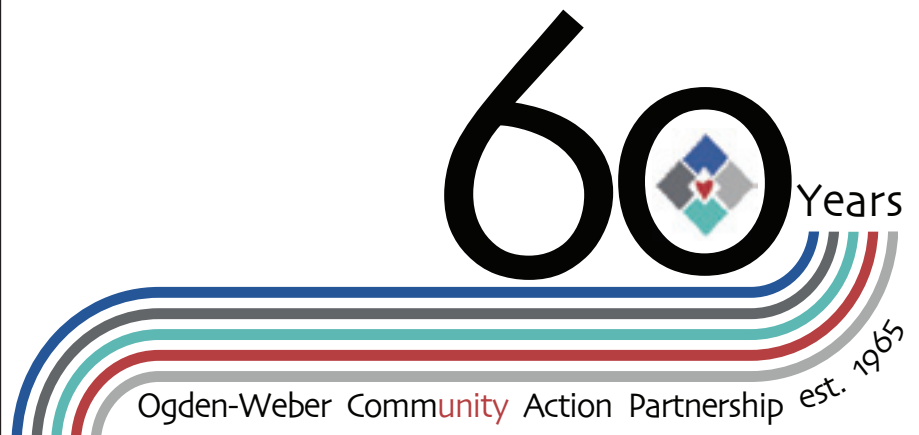

CHROMALOX OGDEN EXPANSION

- $58 million investment
- 103,500-square-foot addition to its 184,000-square-foot facility

YOUR CHAMBER AT WORK

WE ARE STRONGER TOGETHER

2024 MESSAGE BOARD CHAIR LEIGH DEAN

LEIGH DEAN, 2024 BOARD CHAIR,
WARREN'S CRAFTBURGER

Chambers of commerce and local businesses are like good neighbors — they're always there to lend a hand. The Chamber is a bit like the town's friendly organizer, pulling together events, advocating for local businesses and connecting people in ways that make the community stronger.

They're the ones who make sure everyone's on the same page, whether it's promoting Small Business Saturday or just getting folks to know each other's names beyond, "That's the place with the good coffee."

For the local community, a chamber of commerce helps create a thriving environment by supporting businesses, which leads to more jobs and a bustling local economy.

It's like planting a tree—the roots (businesses) grow, and soon the whole community is enjoying the shade (and maybe some cool events).

It's kind of like when you overwater one plant in the garden and suddenly the whole thing turns into a mini jungle — except here, the "overwatering" is lots of support and opportunities for businesses to flourish.

For businesses, joining the Chamber is like getting a backstage pass to what's happening in town. It's not just about shaking hands or attending meetings; it's about being part of something bigger. The Chamber helps businesses grow, gives them a voice in the community and offers a sense of camaraderie. Plus, who wouldn't want to be part of the group that's making the community a better place? It's networking with a purpose!

ABOUT THE CHAMBER

Founded in 1887, the Ogden-Weber Chamber of Commerce is a nonprofit organization dedicated to advancing business and community prosperity in northern Utah. Based in Ogden, the largest metropolitan area north of Salt Lake City, the Chamber represents more than 950 organizations in 15 cities and several unincorporated areas in Weber County. The Chamber is governed by four executive officers and a board of governors. Dedicated staff and volunteers provide business connections, news and information, operational discounts, promotional tools, professional development opportunities, and a collective legislative voice.

WHY JOIN THE CHAMBER

"We have been fortunate to be able to provide our services to business owners in our community as well as having some of our own needs met. These partnerships have been priceless."

- Greg Sanders,
President SymbolArts

"When I became a Chamber member as a new business owner, I was new to Ogden, starting an insurance agency, and I didn't know many people. The greatest benefit (of Chamber membership) is the friendships, the community, and the support I have gained over the past 18+ years."

- Cindee Jessop
First Priority Insurance

"As a member of the Ogden-Weber Chamber of Commerce, the greatest benefit we've experienced has undoubtedly been the consistent networking opportunities. The Chamber organizes a variety of activities that allow us to connect with other business leaders in the community, opening doors for meaningful partnerships and collaborations. Through these events, OgdenXR has not only expanded its local presence but also built relationships that have led to new projects and opportunities for growth. The supportive environment fosters strong business connections, which is essential for our continued success."

- Eduardo Reyes
COO, OgdenXR

"Through my involvement with Women in Business, I've had the incredible opportunity to connect with and elevate other female leaders in our community. This network has not only inspired me but also provided access to exceptional speakers and training sessions that have significantly contributed to my personal and professional growth."

"(Chamber membership) has significantly helped me to increase my business earnings year after year."

- Jeremy Griffin

"The greatest benefit of my 17 years being active in the Ogden-Weber Chamber has been the opportunities to connect with other Chamber members. The Chamber provides so many different and varying opportunities through networking, education and service. You still have to show up, bring yourself to the table and be willing to give back and serve. From this I have made lifelong friends, integrated myself more into my community and it has also been good for business."

- Mike Plowman
*Vice President,
Commercial Banker, Chase Bank*

"My financial advisor (longtime Chamber member) invited me early on to join the Chamber. I couldn't be more thrilled. I signed up online and within two hours Nate called to welcome me. Need funding for your small business?

Since 1991, the Utah Microloan Fund has helped make business owners' dreams a reality by providing business training, mentoring, and funding to Utah small business owners.

We help businesses who:

- Are just starting out and don't have an operating history
- Don't have enough collateral or cash flow for a traditional bank loan
- Have had life events that have had a negative impact on their credit history
- Have ITIN status and need access to funding
- Need business advising and mentoring

Located in Salt Lake City, we serve the entire state of Utah. www.umlf.org
